ABOUT US

When I founded PKL Services in 2003, my vision contained three core elements: (1) provide high-value logistics services at the most competitive rates; (2) anchor our performance on trustworthy relations with our customers and partners; and (3) perform in a manner that always retained our core values and principles. Since its founding, PKL has stayed true to this vision. When you team with PKL, you do so with my pledge that our relationship will be based on trust and integrity; that I will measure PKL's performance from your-- our customers' -- perspective; and that you will be teamed with world-class leaders and managers because I value exceptional people as my most prized resource. With PKL you can depend on a company that balances agile, effective performance with unyielding commitment to our core values.
